SPRING 2016 COLLOQUIUM SCHEDULE

Fridays, 3:00pm
Dane Smith Hall 126

January 29  Dr. Joseph Cook, Professor, Director of the Museum of Southwestern Biology, University of New Mexico
“Beringia: A Dynamic Nexus between the Northern Continents”

February 12  Dr. Frank Norris, Historian, National Trails Intermountain Office, National Park Service
“A Geographical History of the Santa Fe Trail”

February 26  Dr. Lindsay Lowe Worthington, Assistant Professor, Earth and Planetary Sciences, University of New Mexico
“Glaciers, Tectonics and Time: The Story of the St. Elias Mountains, southern Alaska”

March 11  Dr. Jamal Martin, Director, Peace and Justice Studies, Africana Studies, University of New Mexico
“The Built Environment and Population Health Inequities under ‘Settler Colonialism’ in Palestine/Israel”

April 15  Dr. Melinda Benson, Associate Professor, Geography & Environmental Studies, University of New Mexico
“Shifting Public Land Management Paradigms: Lessons from the Valles Caldera National Preserve”

April 29  Dr. Michael Hauck, Executive Director, American Society of Photogrammetry and Remote Sensing
“Geography, Information, and Systems: Past, Present, and Future”